I. Course Description

This course is designed to acquaint the student with the special models, theories, and techniques of crisis intervention. Crisis management resources are identified, and special crisis situations are explored.

II. Student Learning Outcomes (with DLO's)

This course format consistently meets the same quality, assessment, learning outcomes and requirements of the traditional semester course format.

As a result of this course, students will be able to:

1. Employ primary prevention and crisis intervention strategies (PSO1; PSO2; PSO3; PAO4);
2. Apply therapeutic counseling in crisis situations (PSO1; PSO2; PSO5);
3. Practice crisis counseling principles to individuals, groups, and institutions (PSO1; PSO2; PSO4; PSO5); and
4. Discuss a perspective on life's crises and interventions (PAO1; PAO2; PAO3; PAO4).

B. Attendance

According to the Student Handbook, attendance at all class sessions is expected, unless the professor has been notified in advance and has approved the absence. Students should be on time and should stay through the duration of all classes. Any student missing more than six class hours (2 weeks) will be required to do additional work, receive a lower grade, audit or withdraw from the class, or be penalized otherwise at the discretion of the professor.

C. Participation

participation in class sessions and discussions is expected. Classroom dialogue, group activities, and student-initiated questions are vital parts of the learning process. It is expected that students will have read the assignments for the week prior to coming to class. Missed classes interfere with learning requisite skills, performing adequately on class requirements, and may impact the student's grade. It is the student's responsibility to inform the professor of any special needs or circumstances which might interfere with successful class performance.

D. Assignments/Assessment of Student Learning

- 1) According to the Student Handbook, attendance at all class sessions is expected, unless the professor has been notified in advance and has approved the absence. Students should be on time and should stay through the duration of all classes. Any student missing more than six class hours will be required to do additional work, receive a lower grade, audit or withdraw from the class, or be penalized otherwise at the discretion of the professor.
- 2) Midterm Exam: There will be an in-class exam covering the readings and class discussions up to and including week 6. Additional information and instructions will be provided in class.
- 3) Final Exam: There will be an in-class final exam via Blackboard, over the readings and class discussions covered since the midterm exam. Additional information and instructions will be provided in class.
- 4) Research Paper: Students will select a topic within the parameters of trauma, disaster, or crisis counseling. It is expected that students will use at least five (5) current scholarly peer reviewed journal articles/resources for their research on the topic. APA formatting is required including references and a reference page, however, an abstract is not required. Professional mental health web-sites (i.e. SAMHSA, NAMI, etc.) may be cited after consultation with the course instructor. Rubric for grading is on the final page of this syllabus.
- 5) Psychological First Aid Training: First Aid training at <https://learn.nctsn.org/enrol/index.php?id=38> This free training is 6 hours (but students are able to pause and return). Psychological First Aid is an evidence-informed modular approach to help children, adolescents, adults, and families immediately after any disaster, to reduce initial distress, and to foster adaptive functioning. Students will complete the PFA course and will take the online exam. After successfully passing the online exam, the students will download and print a certificate of completion. A copy of the certificate is to be provided to the professor. This assignment is Pass/Fail; although students will not receive a letter grade for the assignment, they must demonstrate initial competence in PFA via the successful completion of the PFA exam (as evidenced by the certificate submitted to the professor).

VI. Recommendations for Lifelong Learning

Students are encouraged, throughout their careers, to continue learning about the treatment of mood and anxiety disorders through intentional efforts to read and research up-to-date literature on the topic. Upon graduation, students are especially encouraged to attend seminars, workshops, trainings, and conferences in this area of interest for continuing education and specialization. Students are encouraged to remain informed and updated about best practices regarding the treatment of these issues.

VII. Seminary Guidelines

A. ATS Academic Integrity Policy

Ashland Theological Seminary expects each student to uphold the Seminary's core value of academic excellence by contributing to an environment that is both challenging and supportive. In such an environment a student will neither seek nor offer improper assistance. All students have an obligation to be forthright in their academic endeavors and to respect ethical standards. The work that one submits for academic evaluation must be one's own, unless an instructor expressly permits certain types of collaboration. Academic integrity requires that each student will use one's own capabilities to achieve one's fullest potential and will neither offer nor accept aid that is not in keeping with regularly accepted standards of academic integrity. Failure to conform to this conduct shall constitute academic dishonesty. The full Academic Integrity Policy statement may be found in the Student Handbook.

B. Seminary Writing Consultation Service

The Seminary Writing Consultation Service can help you brainstorm, draft, and revise your writing assignments in your graduate Seminary classes. Masters and doctoral qualified Consultants can advise you online or in person.

To schedule an appointment, visit Writing Center Online and select "Graduate and Online" from the schedule menu.

C. Accessibility Resources and Accommodations

It is Ashland University's goal that learning experiences be as accessible as possible. If you anticipate or experience physical or academic barriers based on a disability, please contact the Student Accessibility Center at 419-289-5904, or send an email to dservices@ashland.edu. The Student Accessibility Center office and the course instructor will work together in order to establish accommodations and to meet your learning needs.
