

Position Title: Director of Missions

Opportunity Location: Reynoldsburg UMC in Reynoldsburg, OH

Summary of Position:

The Director of Missions should be a servant leader who has a passion for people and their needs. While the missions of Reynoldsburg UMC begins locally, we are always looking for opportunities to expand both nationally and globally. The Director of Missions should be able to live out a strategy that creates and cultivates relationships with a community to assess partnerships and needs so that we, as a church, can be the hands and feet of Jesus. They should also be able to develop relationships within the church – inspiring, empowering, and equipping others to serve. They should love people and should also understand how to put systems in place to guide those that serve alongside them and those they serve. They should demonstrate an understanding of community and the resources available.
